Reviewer: Robert Bronstein

Score: 100

Comments

- All approved B and A commitments were met with sufficient quality, including checking in prattle code on time.
- Team was well organized and communicated effectively.
- in this sprint, I emphasized planning activities such as requirements gathering and use cases that help the Team carefully focus on what was most important to be developed in the coming sprints and the Team kept such A focus well.
- Communication and teamwork both seemed well in order.
- Clear sense of direction going into sprint II
- JIRA and GitHub maintained and smart commits used to assist.
